Woman Sheriff in Dodge, Possibility

Watertown.—Dodge county may have a woman sheriff, and if so it will be the wife of the present sheriff, George Hall, who was elected to succeed himself but who cannot serve because the proposed law which would have made him eligible was defeated at the same election.

The matter may be submitted to the supreme court.
Frank Dodge, democratic opponent of Hall at the election, contended in motions that Hall was not legally nominated.

Milwaukee's Leadership in Motor Bus Service an Example of the Progressive Management That Makes Our Preferred Shares a Safe Home 7% Income Investment

Street railway statisticians tell us The Milwaukee Electric Railway & Light Co. leads the street railway systems of the United States in the number of swift and comfortable motor busses with which it supplements its city, suburban and interurban electric railway lines. Our electric railway lines extend to Sheboygan on the north, to Racine and Kenosha on the south, to Watertown on the west and to East Troy and Burlington on the southwest, for a total of 214 miles. Our fast motor bus lines extend to Fond du Lac on the north, to Madison on the west and to Janesville, Beloit and Lake Geneva on the southwest, for a total of 600 miles of regular operation. The map of our electric railway and motor bus lines published herewith shows the territory served by this 814-mile system of fast passenger and express services.

As of Sept. 30, The Electric Co. had 70 passenger busses, of which 66 were in service on its own lines, and four leased to Wisconsin Gas & Electric Co. for service in Kenosha. Eleven of the 66 were engaged in Milwaukee city service, the others in interurban traffic. During the past year The Electric Co. absorbed the interests of its principal competitors in this field, and is now supplying substantially all of the motor bus service for the Greater Milwaukee district. During the first nine months of 1922 our busses carried more than 1,100,000 passengers and operated 910,554 miles.

Motor busses will never supplant electric railway cars in large cities. They will be increasingly useful as feeders to electric car lines and as supplementary lines. The motor bus has a large field, in interurban traffic, in which it will grow and prosper, affording hundreds of small communities, not served or inadequately served by railways, frequent quick communication with city trading centers. The public is served best, safest and cheapest by having the motor bus lines operated as a part of the electric railway system.

These 7% cumulative preferred shares cost $100 each. You can buy them either for cash or on monthly payments of $5 or more per share. 67 CONVICTIONS UNDER DRY LAWS

Twining's Report to Jefferson County Board Shows Year's Activity.

Jefferson.—Sixty-seven convictions for violation of liquor laws were obtained by District Attorney Twining during the closing year, according to his annual report submitted to the Jefferson county board of supervisors. Of 125 cases brought during the year, 104 were held for trial, and three on his own motion and two on pending. District Attorney Twining secured convictions in 86 cases, or 87 per cent of the cases disposed of, in circuit court.

Liquor violation cases accounted for 92 per cent of the total number tried in circuit and county court. Fines totaled $3,372. Nine commitments to county jail, 12 to state prison for nine months and eight months, two to industrial school for boys for four years, seven paroled for periods totaling seven years and three months, and in 11 cases sentences have been deferred. Of the nine sent to jail, all were put under the Huber law except two.

Mr. Twining calls attention to two instances, where the circumstances having been committed. One of these was the mystery of Miralzo, which resulted in the sentencing to life imprisonment of Fred L. McBride; that of the drowning of Noble Dibble, Milwaukee, near Rome, Wis.

Was a Good Judge of Liquor

"Since a young man I had a liking for liquor and was considered a pretty good judge of it at one time, but constant drinking gave me stomach trouble, which became chronic. My stomach would have been a valuable addition to a gas factory. Doctors did not seem to relieve me. One day my druggist got me to try Dodd's Kidney Pills. Remedies and I am now as good as new. It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation, which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. Peoples Drug Co., and druggists everywhere."

Quick Relief From Backache

Are you troubled with chronic backache? Dodd's Kidney Pills, an old reliable remedy, relieves backache quickly. Dodd's kidney pills and other dangerous ailments.

Dodd's has protected the health of thousands for over two generations. Good druggists recommend and guarantee Dodd's. Prompt relief or money back. If your druggist's supply is out, send us 60c. for large box.

STOMACH UPSET?

Get at the Real Cause—Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets.

That's what thousands of stomach sufferers are doing now. Instead of taking tonics, or trying to patch up a poor digestion, they are attacking the real cause of the ailment—clogged liver and clogged bowels.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets arouse the liver in a soothing, healing way. When the liver and bowels are performing their natural function, there is no indigestion and stomach troubles.

Have you a bad taste, coated tongue, poor appetite, a lazy, don't care feeling, no ambition or energy, trouble with undigested foods? Take Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable, compound, mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color. They do the work without griping, cramps or pain.

Take one or two at bedtime for quick relief. Eat what you like, 10c and 50c.

Is Backache Making You Miserable?

Are you dull, tired and achy—bothered with a bad back? Do you lack ambition, suffer headaches and dizziness—feel all worn out? Like your back to ache, or your head to pound, or your stomach to ache, or your bowels to be constipated, or your nerves to be all symptoms of weakened kidneys. Don't wait for more serious trouble. Get back your health and keep it. Use Doan's Kidney Pills. Home folks tell their merit. Ask your neighbor.

Here's a Janesville case: J. W. McCue, stationary engineer, 505 Lincoln street, says: "My back had been aching for three weeks and my kidneys acted too frequently. I had a tired, nervous feeling, so I decided to try Doan's Kidney Pills. The strongest friend I had who had been benefited by them. I got a couple boxes at Sherer's Drug store and when I had finished taking them I was as well as ever."

ROLLER BEARINGS ON SWEDEN TRAINS

Comfort Increased and Cost of Operation Cut by Use of System.

Stockholm—The use in Sweden of roller bearings for the wheels of railroad cars, passenger and freight, has been inaugurated by the issuance of definite orders for the last time. What promises to be a boon to railroads and travelers the world over, and the possible development of a manufacturing industry of large proportions, is now being perfected in Sweden.

The system of roller bearings as now perfected is the result of years of experiment and research in Sweden and elsewhere. The roller bearing problem has been hastened because of the growing need of finding some way to reduce the expense of railroad operation. A saving of about 15 per cent in coal, together with a saving of personnel and a conservation of equipment, will become feasible by the installation of roller bearings. Travelers will benefit because of the smoothness and less noise in the running of trains. It is thought also that passenger and freight rates may be lowered as a result of the new economy in operation.

The new bearings are barrel-shaped and roll freely between the shaft and the runway. They bear the weight of the train and the old-fashioned roller bearings. The Swedish company which manufactures these bearings reports that the Pennsylvania railroad has been making experiments for some time with a view to their adoption.

conference circles, but indications are that the work will be scarcely well begun, by that time if the delegates delve thoroughly into the tangled problems which have arisen from the signing of the Savers treaty and the defeat of the Greeks.

The machinery of the present conference apparently will be much the same as that of the Geneva, Locarno and Rome meetings. The same commissions to deal with general problems are provided for in the preliminary arrangements.

ALLIES SHOULD HAVE FINISHED WAR, ASSERTION

Paris—Benito Mussolini, Italian premier, in a speech to the Chamber of Deputies, said the allies should have finished the war, "you in Berlin and we in Vienna and Budapest."

The enemy doctor is quoted as saying: "Now you realize that your duty is a heavy one. Germany is resolved not to pay. In addition, she is threatening to take you and she is threatening to take you and she is threatening to take you."

Europe, according to Mussolini, is troubled with a cancerous lesion which the allies have no power to cure. He therefore urged Fascism for Belgium, France, Italy and Great Britain, to defend western culture against Germany and Soviet Russia.

RATTLESNAKES GROW WILD NEAR CHICAGO

Chicago—The oft-debated question of whether rattlesnakes grow wild in the vicinity of Chicago has been settled by Dr. Frank M. Woodruff, curator of the Chicago Academy of Sciences, in Lincoln park, with the acquisition of a specimen captured this summer in the sand dunes at Miller beach, near Gary, Ind.

The rattler, a three foot female, belongs to the western type, of Crotalus Confrontatus. Shortly after reaching the museum she gave birth to seven young snakes.

After completing a study of the habits of the mother and her young, Dr. Woodruff plans to dispatch them and make plaster casts for the exhibit of reptiles from the environs of Chicago.

Belgian People Acclaim Courage of Elizabeth

(By Associated Press.)

Brussels—Elizabeth, Queen of the Belgians, whose courage is well known, has just given another example of her fearlessness when she invoked the fierceness of her people. Majesty recently visited the mining district of Limbourg, and while there expressed a wish to go down into one of the mines. Several officials protested, stating that some of the mines were flooded and that there was a certain danger in making the descent.

The queen persisted, and, dressed in a miner's outfit and a leather cap, she went down to a depth of about 800 feet. The party explored a large section of the mine before returning to the surface.

When Her Majesty reappeared safely at the top the crowd assembled gave her an enthusiastic greeting.

BROOKLYN BOMBER IN LETTER THREAT

Will Blow Up City Hall as He Did Wall Street, Writes Illiterate.

New York—A man who said he caused the Wall street explosion wrote to Borough President McEwen, of Brooklyn on Tuesday, threatening to blow up "Brooklyn city hall" and kill every one in it. He said he also might cut Brooklyn bridge in two pieces. His letter reads: "When I did blow up Wall street and I killed twenty-eight people two years ago, I did it for a reason. I got a new kind of explosive—a better soup, with which I did blow up a few railroads the last few months, working for the unions. I intend to kill everybody in the building. May be after I will cut Brooklyn bridge in two pieces. I love to kill."

The letter was written on "cheap" paper, evidently by a person of very little education. It was signed, "H. Strachan, 23 Fulton street, Brooklyn." There is an "H. Strachan" at that address, a sign painter, but according to the police, he is an entirely reputable person and could not possibly have had anything to do with such a communication.

MONEY BELOW PAR IN MANY NATIONS

Latest Postal Department Exchange List Shows English Pound at $4.50.

While German marks and Austrian kroner are doing a backward slide, with announcements each day that the "rock bottom" has been reached, money exchanges in other countries have not been quite themselves. Many of them have been teetering on the edge of disaster, occasionally catching themselves and getting back a little closer to normal.

While the ups and downs of exchange rates are more a source of annoyance in this country than any serious affair to the majority of people, the postal department, suffering from the effects of the war, has issued orders for all foreign currencies except Germany and Austria, where money orders must be sent in dollars and cents, must all be transferred by means of the exchange rates of the money exchange companies of the country where they are received. This requires much work on the department's part in keeping the public informed in order to keep the exchange rates from being too far off from the true value.

The latest bulletin shows the following as the up-to-date rates of exchange, although they do not follow the exact rates as printed in daily papers, they are the rates which the postoffice demands be used:

Great Britain, Ireland, etc. $4.50

Belgium, 1 franc 1.00

Denmark, 1 krona 1.00

France, 1 franc 1.00

Netherlands, 1 florin 1.00

Norway, 1 krona 1.00

Sweden, 1 krona 1.00

Switzerland, 1 franc 1.00

Previous to the war, an American dollar was worth 5 French francs and 10 Belgian francs. Then in August, 1920, 16 centimes, the lowest mark of the franc, began to fall, a dollar could buy 10 francs and 30 centimes. In 1921, the same amount could buy 12 francs, they went back a little, and only 11 francs, the dollar was worth 11 francs. The dollar was worth 11 francs, the dollar was worth 11 francs, the dollar was worth 11 francs.

It will be started at the west end of the road at project 39, and extend westerly in Ixonia and Watertown townships and the city of Watertown.

A stretch on Highway 19 from the present concrete at the Dodge county line and south and west through Waterloo village to the Dane county line.

The Whitewater-Fort Atkinson road on Highway 12 will be concrete from the Watertown county line northwesterly through Cold Spring and Koshkonong townships and Fort Atkinson.

Beginning at the west limits of Watertown, concrete will be laid through the city of Watertown to the Dodge county line on 19.

As much of the Fort Atkinson-Cambridge road on Highway 12 as Cambridge county permit will be constructed of concrete, starting at Fort Atkinson and running through Koshkonong, Jefferson and Oakdale townships to the Dane county line.

THE WALL FLOWER
Chapter I
Jim Nicholson liked to think of his daughter as a little Cinderella, with his sister-in-law, and her daughter playing the part of the cruel step-mother and step-sister.

It was so like a sentimentalism over the situation, and do practically nothing to help! As a matter of fact, the girl was not at all imposed on, except as every sensitive character suffers by contact with coarser natures. Both father and daughter had a home, and a comfortable one, with the prosperous Peter Nicholson. To be sure, Peter took a very slight advantage of the situation, and Jim's obvious dependence upon him, to give him less than the usual farm laborer's wage. He paid Jim $26 a month, in a day when $25 was considered fair. And Dora, old enough and strong enough to be "useful" around the house, was paid $5 a month for "helping."

"The thing is, Jim remarked to his daughter as though in a friendly way, "that we live there. That costs nothing." (Which was true of every similarly employed laborer, of course). "And while like one of the family, not like hired help."

Peter Nicholson had a farm some three miles—possibly a little less—from Norris City. They lived here from early spring until early months, vesting; then for the four months, when the country was buried under snow, they moved to a house in the center of the town.

Aunt Maude found the isolation of the farm too much for her sociable nature. Gladys was school age, and the house in town, which it could be rented, brought practically nothing. One of the farm laborers who had a small home on the farm itself, looked after the livestock. Peter wanted Jim to help at this, for the work was almost too much for one man. But Jim had always saved up his wages, and once the harvesting was over, had disappeared to the south where the weather was warm. He had tramped it, stolen rides on freight trains, and then paid his fare, once he bought an old horse condemned to the glue factory, and had some-how ridden the poor beast through half a dozen states, until he shot it, because he could not bear to sell it to another owner when he had to go back to work.

When Dora was old enough to go to school, he had taken her alone, living in a much more respectable fashion than ever he had when alone, yet playing it for more than three months. And Dora had loved the discomfort and the adventure—she was never afraid, and yet, now, as she entered the "parlor" she was in a state of nervous terror. She was greeted with a chorus of "Hello, Dora." Some called her "Dory."

She slid into a chair, and crossed her arms. Then she remembered that wasn't a nice position—it didn't look "parlorized"—so she uncrossed them, her back hunched a bit because she was tired.

"Uncle Jim's going to play, so we can dance," Gladys announced. And Jim, who performed upon a cornet, a violin or an accordion, not knowing the note from another, but producing by ear a lot of familiar melodies—obligingly sat down and became an entire orchestra.

"Don't you hate them to dance?" you never dance," one girl asked Dora. She had a lame foot, so all ways had to "sit out" the dances.

"Oh, I don't mind," Dora answered—and the talk lapsed. Fandom knew all these people, some she had brought up with from childhood, and yet somehow she couldn't talk to them.

Gladys looked pretty tonight, the other girls said. She acknowledged it with a smile. Her lame foot kept her out of many things, and had embarrassed her while sitting. "Yes, doesn't she?" Talk lapsed again. Dora watched her cousin—indeed she thought her very pretty. Gladys adored parties, her eyes, of which she was so proud, had an exultant gleam. She was conscious of her fancy dress. Tonight it was a blue tulle, trimmed with a profusion of rhinestone banding. Gladys was the belle of every party. Her hearty laugh—perhaps a little loud—rang out every minute.

There were eleven young people in the room. Four couples danced. The lame girl sat and frowned. Dora sat and rested. The eleventh was a boy of about 23, with a lot of dry, sandy color hair and watery blue eyes, a wide, homely, gentle-looking mouth, and so many freckles that one wondered where one freckle left off and the others began. They were scattered separately over his face, they touched they overlapped, they grew on top of each other—and on one cheek was a large wart. Morton Newberry was almost as shy as Pantomime.

"Why don't you dance, Mort?" Gladys called across the room. "Aw, go on! Go dance with Dora—you haven't even spoken to her yet." Obstinately the boy got up and went to Dora. But he couldn't quite ask her to dance. He sat by her instead, watching the others. The lame girl was talking to Peter Nicholson. Dora frowned desperately to think of something to say to her companion. She couldn't find any comfortable place for her hands, which were suddenly in her way and sizes too large for her.

"Tomorrow—A Shy Friendship."

The southern Californian may think himself an adept at making seductive pictures of his end of the state, but he can still learn from the Californian who says a duck collector broke in, also returned a month, and when they took him to the hotelward-bound

William Doublox is noted for his nerve, his shortness of temper, and his scarcity of cash. While he was seated at a lonely breakfast in his club, one day, a duck collector broke in, also returned a month, and when they took him to the hotelward-bound

"Sir," said William, glaring at him. "Is this all you know of the business? Do you know I could call the servants and have you thrown out the door?"

"The collector went out and sent in his card. William picked it up between thumb and forefinger, adjusted his monocle and said: "Tell the gentleman," he said sweetly, "that I am not in."—Tillies.

TODAY'S RECIPES
Kidney Steak—Simmer one large onion and one green pepper (cut up fine) in two tablespoons of butter for three minutes, then add about 20 lamb kidneys in cut quarters and dredge with about four tablespoons of flour and when thoroughly blended add boiling water to cover, and simmer for three-quarters of an hour, salting to taste. Two good sized potatoes and four or five carrots may be cooked in with the steak, or you can cook them in boiling salt water and add to the stew, as this preserves their color. One-quarter pound of mushrooms cut in thin slices (not peeled), may be added the last five minutes of cooking.

Special Dressing—Take the yolk of a hard boiled egg and cream it with a fork. Then add French dressing, made as follows: Three tablespoons oil, two tablespoons vinegar, one teaspoon each of salt and mustard, and a few specks of cayenne, and some paprika. Into this mixture of egg yolk and dressing add two cream cheeses and continue creaming till about the consistency of cream. Add salt, then add the white of the egg, beat into small pieces. Pile on crisp lettuce leaves.

BEAUTY CHATS by Edna Kent Forbes

"GOOSEFLESH"

An extraordinary number of women write me and complain of large pores, blackheads and a curiously rough condition of the skin on the arms and legs, which some of them aptly describe as "gooseflesh."

It doesn't seem to me to be a disease, but rather a rather more vigorous cleansing and seldom get it. The lower part of the leg is particularly apt to show gooseflesh, pores because the fine down that covers the skin turns into quite noticeable hairs at this point, around which small blackheads develop.

The arms and the legs should be scrubbed with hot water, soap and a moderately stiff brush, either the small hand scrubbing brush or the large bath kind. If the large pores and the hardened matter under the skin that looks like gooseflesh is at all developed, then this hot water and scrubbing treatment should be performed every day, if not once a week. You will be amazed to see how soon the pores of the skin become finer after a few weeks of this treatment.

If you have had this "gooseflesh" for a long time the best thing to do is to soak the arms or legs in hot water for about 10 minutes, then rub them vigorously all over with olive oil, white mineral oil, or any non-petroleum oil. The idea is simply to get something oily into the pores while they are open from the heat so as to soften all this collected matter. After this vigorous rub scrub the skin with soap, water and a brush as just described. And this, and any other treatment, by dashing cold water over the skin.

WITCH CHARM AND PIRATE LOOT

FOR LITTLE FRIENDLY FOLKS WHO LIKE ADVENTURES

Ned and Ted had made a portage around a dam and came down the river to Chain of Lakes, which was a beautiful spot. But when Ned began to make what looked like a "front porch" as he called it, he objected.

"That's just a waste of time," he declared. "No it isn't. It's a protection. Every dog house should be made that way. See—it gives him plenty of air and sunshine if he stays outside in what you call the porch, and it also keeps out the wind and what is more important, the rain."

Ned understood. They got some roofing paper for the roof. Ted found some green paint in the shed and painted it and the lady was so delighted when she saw it that she insisted they come into dinner.

The dog house shown in the illustration is easy to make, as can be seen. It keeps the inside dry and just warm enough, and by either closing one end of the "porch" or placing it against a board fence or side of some building, there is no doubt that the dog will like the box makes the side of the "porch."

And such a dinner as the old lady gave these boys! "Camping is fine fun," said Ted, "but a real civilized dinner tastes awfully good now and then."

The lady seemed pleased at this and when the boys started for the lake to set up camp she gave them a basket of good things: eggs, a cake, cookies and crackers, some bread and many other goodies.

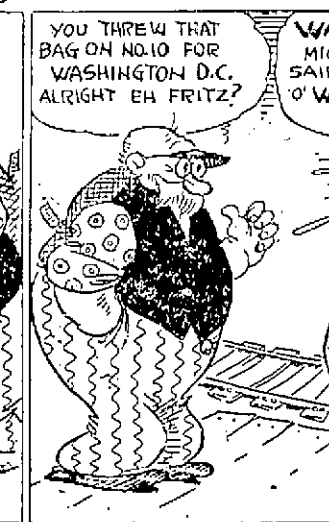

And the very next day the boys brought her a splendid mess of fish. "Land sakes!" exclaimed, "you boys must be terribly smart. The men round here can't seem to catch any fish at all. They say there are no fish in the lake."

During the week the boys stayed on this point they brought her several more of fish and also picked 10 quarts of berries for her. And she kept on so full of what they called "civilized food" that they were too lazy to do much of anything. The lady showed him where to get a large net and it wasn't long before Ned and Ted were as busy as professional carpenters.

They really made a good dog house can get a book with a key to the calories which will make it easy for your wife to reduce to normal weight. You will have to be very tactful in broaching this subject or you will hurt her feelings. I would suggest that you go to a book store, get information and then casually mention to your wife the book recommended and say that it is quite a fad for people to keep a "normal" weight, by watching the calories in food. If you are inclined to be heavy, get the book for yourself and do not ask her to read it. She will do so voluntarily.

In regard to clothes, perhaps your wife will let you go with her when she buys dresses, suits, coats, hats, etc. She will probably be glad to have you take an interest in the things she wears, because she will know that so far you have not realized how expensive clothes are. Clothes do not need to be expensive to be becoming, however.

Above everything else love your wife and show her affection. Love is the magic spell through it you can accomplish almost anything.

Of course it is wrong to disobey your parents. Trust their judgment in this case and do not do a dishonorable thing in order to go riding in a sedan.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a married man of 38 and have a wife and child. My wife is 32 and our child is 9 years old. I suppose I have a reason to complain because my wife is a good cook and housekeeper and a good mother to the boy. But she is not like the wives of other men where I work. She is clean and not interested in anything except cooking and cleaning.

At the office where I work the men get together for social evenings and they invite their wives. The other women are slim and well dressed and they talk of election, books, and progressive things. My wife is simply lost and doesn't know anything about such matters.

It is little of me to write this way, but I actually feel ashamed. What can I do to make my wife take an interest in something besides the home? TOM KAT

Make your wife your companion and don't let her spend so much time cooking and keeping house. I think you will find that she will enjoy the company of other women who are in the company of the other women who are readers she will feel more at home.

There are many good books on the market regarding the reduction of flesh. Dieting as a rule is distasteful because it cuts out the things a fat person particularly enjoys eating. To cut down on calories is the only way to grow thinner and this can be done without any discomfort to the person trying the method. For a dollar you

New York—While Hoppe is again the 152nd balking champion. He regained the title Tuesday night in the final match of the International 152nd balking championship tournament defeating Jack Schaefer, title holder, 500 to 233. He won Tuesday night in the seventh inning with an unfinished run of 10.

Hoppe Beats Arm
During the tournament Hoppe strained a ligament in his right arm and could not make a masse shot without great pain and deliberation. He never complained of this, however, relying on banking, driving and forced draws and follow shots. He put to rest reports that he would retire.

Comes From Behind
Hoppe came from behind at a critical stage of the contest, when Schaefer led him by more than 100 points. At the close he put to rest reports that he would retire. He won Tuesday night in the seventh inning with an unfinished run of 10.

Madison—Three correspondence study courses in football, basketball and track and field athletics are being prepared by Prof. G. S. Lowman, director of the University of Wisconsin gymnasium. Dr. W. B. McLean, basketball coach and Prof. T. E. Jones, chairman of the department of physical education, to be given under auspices of the university extension division. This is the first attempt made by any university to teach by correspondence and affords opportunity for any person interested in any of the three sports to obtain expert teaching in athletics through the mail.

ATTENDANCE figures at college football games exceed by many thousands those at baseball games. When it comes to intercollegiate grid clashes, the crowds are held down only by the capacity of the stands. For instance, the official crowd of the Yale-Army game was $2,000 and for the Chicago-Princeton clash was $2,000. And the interest is growing and causing university after university to build larger stadiums.

VERY LIKELY, the cause for all this is two-fold. In the first place, college football has many more followers who are drawn by the greater fighting spirit and excitement of football over all other spectacular sports. Secondly, the season is short and the crowds are larger.

TICKET prices for college football are on the average higher than for any other sport. They are higher than for professional baseball, for instance. This, too, is due in large extent to the shortness of the season, even though it is played by amateurs for amateurism. Yet, there are those who complain.

THE PUBLIC must remember that college football is not a business. There are injuries and doctors' expenses to consider. There is the larger cost of equipment. There is the necessity for many more men. Sometimes a star can play in only one or two games a season because he is hurt on the sidelines. Football can be played day after day, but the chance of a player getting knocked out for weeks at a time. Travelling expenses for each game are greater.

BUT THE MOST IMPORTANT matter to bear in mind is that the receipts from college games make football possible. They make large hands possible. And they make other college sports possible. Where would the money come from for track, for rowing, for gymnastic teams, for tennis, for wrestling, for soccer and other minor sports, were it not for the receipts from football? The gridiron supports these other endeavors that are valuable in building up college men to become useful citizens.

Grubb Makes "UW"
Harrier Outfit

When the Wisconsin cross-country team goes to Lafayette, Ind. this week to compete with Purdue, Michigan, Indiana, Minnesota, Ohio State, Illinois, Iowa, Iowa State and Michigan Aggies, a Janesville lad will be on the Badger squad. This harrier is Robert Grubb. "Bob" is also entered in the Turkey run of three miles which will be held here under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A.

EDWARDS' OREGON
FIVE WINS OPENER

Oregon—Oregon high school opened its basketball season with a victory over Belleville, 14 to 12. They broke a 12-13 tie in the last seven minutes of play with a free throw. Two hundred rosters accompanied the scene of the battle. Paul Edwards, coach of the great Beaverton team last year, is supervising principal here.

Fenske Gets Enthusiastic as State Pin Meet Nears

By WM. F. PENNICK

The opening runs of the county state tournament at Green Bay, Jan. 25 to Feb. 20, 1923, are being trained on the bowlers of the state. When the tournament is over on the closing date of entries, which falls on Jan. 14, it is anticipated that the greatest entry ever recorded will greet the tennis kink.

A few years back the Green Bay bowlers staged their first tournament and gathered an entry of 500 teams, of which one-half were from the Bay city. This coming tournament will double the entry of 1919.

Beautiful Accommodations—The first experience in journey lines, the promoters at Green Bay staged the greatest kegfest ever planned here. The bowlers of Wisconsin, it is their aim to duplicate the social features of the last tournament, which, by the way, were many, and in addition, they intend to double the entry of the last meet.

Accommodations—The new North Side advancement association, consisting of a battery of 14 newly constructed cottages, are placed in a splendid new building, side by side, extending clear across the floor space without a single abutment to mar the beauty of the glistering alleys.

Plenty of gallery room is arranged. All other accommodations for bowlers to while away the hours between sounds will be found in the room, candy and cigar counters and restaurant, which will place the 1923 tournament as a leader of all state tournaments to this time.

Prize for a bowler—The Green Bay is a local city for a tournament and howling convention as they have the bowlers who are enthusiastic, with a leader in Gust Walter that cannot be duplicated in the country. He has the real honest "hon" that is needed, and being honest it makes a real and lasting impression among howling visitors. Mr. Walter was at the head of the tournament in 1919 and did so well in satisfying the tennis artistry who journeyed to his town, that he was again the unanimous choice for proxy when the tournament was awarded to Green Bay during the last record breaking tournament.

One thousand teams, which means just one hundred more than the state tournament had in action at Madison last spring, which tournament set a world's record for state tournament entries.

Everything is being done for the bowlers that they anticipate, and many new novel features will be introduced by the Green Bay promoters to interest the visitors.

Ten Pins in Kilo
The new select tennis have been ordered and prior to the holidays will be stored in a drying room at Green Bay, so that good scores will be made, which always warms the heart of the tennis artist.

Reduced railroad rates of one fare and one half for the round trip during the entire tournament will save the state bowlers $1,500 in cost of currency, which they can spend for other pleasures.

Dandy hotel accommodations are offered, and all concrete roads for the hardy motorist who will make the trip in his bus.

The tournament is to be a record

Columbia Plans Big Homecoming Next Saturday

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Delaware is planning a college athletic officials have declared the Columbia-De Paul game here next Saturday as homecoming game. The event is expected to draw Columbia from all over the mid-west, the homecoming event will not, however, take the place of the annual Alumni day, which will be held next spring, but will this year take the form of a three-day celebration of the golden jubilee of the college. Saturday's game will give those who have rooted themselves here in days past as well as those who have not the opportunity to see the greatest team in Columbia's history in action.

The 1922 Columbia grid machine has made an enviable record. Every one of the six games played to date have not only been victories, but each has also been a shutout. Two games remain to be played on the schedule, the one with De Paul at Duquesne Saturday and the one with Loyola at Chicago Thanksgiving.

Coach Anderson looks upon the De Paul tussle as the stiffest of the season and is drilling his men accordingly. He thinks Anderson, who was out of the De Paul game because of injuries received in the St. Victor encounter, will be back against De Paul, Blakely, Columbia's gridiron and punter, suffered a wrenching leg in the St. Victor tilt and will be out for a few days. With the exception of Blakely, who is expected to be in shape for next Saturday, the Columbians are in top form.

Monday Gym Classes—The Misses Ann Keating and Grace Loomer. Tuesday, the Misses Ann Barrett and Clara Vinger. 8 p. m.

Thursday Class—The Misses Lorraine and Ruth McLaughlin. Basketball—The Misses Laura Law and Arlene Ponaz.

Swimming—The Misses Lillian Connell and Helen Bates. Hiking—The Misses Helen Persson and Melba Dunn.

Homecoming—The Misses Catherine McManus and Irene Dunn. Monday night's meeting will be held after the polls close at 8:30 p. m. The Misses Lillian Connell and Helen Bates will be cheer leaders. The officers will be installed at this session.

Nominations were made by the following special committee: Misses Frances Child, chairman, the Misses Eva Townsend, Mildred Smith and Theresa Dunn and Mrs. Sidney Bostwick. The officers and activity heads will constitute the executive board of the association.

Tennis, which has its own manager elected recently, will be incorporated in the association.

Rockford Gets Set for Beloit Game with Ripon

Beloit—Beloit and Ripon will clash on the Three-Eye grid at Rockford, Ill., Saturday. In the first football exhibition that city has witnessed in 17 years, Capt. Tommy Mills lined up at halfback against Knox on the old Riverside field, in Rockford, back in 1905, and this week Coach Tommy Mills takes his troops down to fight Ripon.

Rockford is making a big celebration out of it. Beginning with a "Speed Day" on Thursday, the city will deck itself out for a collegiate weekend.

Beloit will fight to defend its share of the state grid title, now tied up with Lawrence by virtue of the Lawrence-Beloit scoreless tie.

Beloit and Ripon are tied up in comparative scores. Deponents have mixed up some potent potions, but the comparisons are won on this paper. Each team has won and lost the same number. But here's where the dope looks good. Ripon has run up a total of 26 points against 26 by opponents. Beloit has 107 points against 64 by opponents. It doesn't give either the advantage, but it shows Beloit has the stronger offensive weapon, while Ripon under the tutelage of Guy Sundt, has a notably powerful defense.

Special trains will run to the Rockford field Saturday morning from Beloit and Ripon with 500 Beloiters and 500 from the up-state camps.

Badger Colleges Invite Normals to Fight "Pros"

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Whitewater—The Athletic conference of Wisconsin colleges, through its chairman, Prof. J. H. Farley of Lawrence college, has sent an invitation to the faculty representatives of the Wisconsin Normal school conference to meet with it in Milwaukee, Friday, December 8. It is understood the normal schools will accept the invitation.

It is planned to make this a conference of normal schools and colleges to discuss ways and means for united action in stemming the tide of professional football.

Harris to Play in Chicago Game

Mailton—Using Chicago tandem formations the reserves had fair success in piercing the Wisconsin line Tuesday night during scrimmage in preparation for the Madison attack Saturday. The Badger line, with several substitutes in position, managed to hold off Chicago plays well on the defense and opened wide holes on the offense.

Jack Harris, strong reserve halfback, who has been out all season with injuries, was in the play for a time Tuesday. He is expected to get a try at Chicago and is touted as a rival of Thomas, the Maroon's plugging fullback.

Coach Richards is holding long drills and chalk talks with his men and will have a piercing attack ready for Saturday's game. Every man on the Wisconsin team will be in shape for the game.

The athletic department announces that 10,000 seats reserved for Wisconsin rooters have all been sold.

Oshkosh to Meet Milwaukee; Play Off Tie for 3rd

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

The 1922 football season in the Wisconsin Normal School conference has all but passed into history. One more game remains to be played. Milwaukee and Oshkosh are scheduled to clash at Milwaukee Friday.

This game will be one of the most significant on the schedule of the two schools. They are now tied for third in the conference. Both have been defeated once this season, but each has won as many games as any other school in the conference.

Finished their schedules and each has won two games, but they play only three conference games apiece. Oshkosh holds neither can base a conference championship on winning two games. Neither can Oshkosh or Milwaukee claim the championship, for each has been defeated once. There will be, therefore, no clear claim to a conference championship this year by one school. The team coming out of this week's game the winner, however, will have won the greatest number of games in the conference. Both teams are desirous of securing this honor and are working overtime this week, developing new plays and perfecting old ones.

The dope is decidedly in Milwaukee's favor. Milwaukee two weeks ago defeated Plattville the week after Plattville had won from Oshkosh. Milwaukee also defeated Stevens Point, while Oshkosh was able only to hold the Pointers to a tie.

Invitation extended Marinette this season.

"The local high school has made no agreement with Marinette to extend its activities beyond Nov. 30," Coach Keegan said, "even in the event of a victory over Superior here on that date."

Marinette Stand on Grid Dispute

La Crosse football on Thanksgiving day, as far as La Crosse is concerned, is not a play-off game for the benefit of Marinette, was the statement of Coach George Keegan of the local high school Wednesday following a statement in the Superior Telegram that the "control" in high school gridiron circles has eased up with assurance from Marinette that the state champions will play the winner.

The La Crosse high school has twice offered Marinette games, said Coach Keegan Wednesday, referring to the game which Marinette cancelled last year after the local management, thinking Marinette to be in good faith, had begun an extensive advance ticket sale, and referring also to the invitation extended Marinette this season.
